

Measured Building Surveys

Measured Building Surveys

Anthony Brookes Surveys Ltd has a highly experienced specialist team of measured building surveyors who use rigorous and innovative measurement methods to produce highly accurate floor plans, elevations and sections. Such plans are an invaluable aid to the design process in a multitude of applications. We have worked on numerous large scale, high profile projects including various public, listed and historical buildings. The final plans can be simple structural outline or fully detailed showing every socket, switch and pipe.